

The 12th Conference of the International Test Commission

Diversity and equity in a globalized digital world:
Opportunities and challenges for assessment

14-17 July 2020

University of Luxembourg
Belval Campus
Luxembourg

CALL FOR REVIEWERS

INVITATION TO REVIEW

The 12th Conference of the ITC is taking place from 14-17 July 2020 at the University of Luxembourg, Belval Campus. The 2020 conference will be exploring the theme Diversity and equity in a globalized, digital world: Opportunities and challenges for assessment. This theme not only highlights cultural diversity following from globalisation, it also tackles today's rapid advancements in the field of technology-based assessment. The theme is further divided into the following sub-themes:

- Test development and validation in international and multicultural environments
- Innovations and advances in psychometric theory, modelling and technologies
- Current issues of policy, diversity and equity
- Best practices in testing and assessment
- Test security and privacy in a globalized digital world.

We invite academics interested in reviewing submissions for the 2020 Conference of the International Test Commission to register as a reviewer. Reviewing is done online and will take place between early December 2019 and mid-February 2020. Reviewers are required to rate oral presentation, symposium, and poster abstracts (max. 300 words) on a scoring matrix covering 6 criteria, and to provide a general recommendation concerning the submission. If we have drawn your interest, please send an e-mail with a link to your professional website OR CV to itc.2020conference@uni.lu by 15 December 2019.

IMPORTANT DATES

31 Oct. 2019	Deadline for workshop submissions
15 Dec. 2019	Deadline for paper and poster submissions
15 Dec. 2019	Deadline for symposia submissions
28 Feb. 2020	Notification to authors

CONFERENCE

For more information about the Conference, please visit <http://itc-conference.com>